

WE STRIVE TO IMPROVE THE LIVES OF DOGS AND THEIR HUMAN COMPANIONS.

The Dog Aging Institute is a nonprofit organization inspired by the groundbreaking discoveries of the Dog Aging Project. By integrating veterinary science and innovative aging research, we strive to improve the lives of dogs and their human companions.

 dogaginginstitute.org

WHAT WE DO

The Dog Aging Institute is organized and operated exclusively for charitable and educational purposes. The Institute provides support for research and education related to understanding the determinants of health and longevity of companion dogs, with relevance to human healthspan.

THE GOAL

The overarching goal of this work is to increase both healthspan and lifespan in companion animals and in humans. The Dog Aging Institute provides grants to support scientific research in this area. Indirect costs for all grants from the Dog Aging Institute may not exceed 10%.

YOUR SUPPORT MATTERS

The Dog Aging Institute is a nonprofit organization incorporated in the state of Delaware. Our mission is to enhance the lives and well-being of our canine companions through groundbreaking research and initiatives. As we embark on this exciting journey, we cordially invite you to be part of our community through your generous support.

 If you would like to talk with us about matching, legacy, or major gifts, please contact us at donate@dogaginginstitute.org.

 If you would like to talk with us about partnership or sponsorship opportunities, please contact us at info@dogaginginstitute.org.

TO DONATE

Your donation will help establish an endowment to support ongoing research to help future generations of dogs live healthier, longer lives!

 TO DONATE, TEXT "GIVE4DOGS" TO 53-555
OR VISIT OUR WEBSITE AT: DOGAGINGINSTITUTE.ORG

